

My mom and stepdad had been sick with covid for two weeks. My mom decided they should go to a walk in medical clinic (8/8/2021) to have my stepdad's lungs checked because she was worried he might have pneumonia. The walk in clinic thought he was okay, but suggested they go over to the hospital ER (8/8/2021) to get an x-ray to ensure his lungs were ok.

So when they got to the ER, they were treated horribly. The head nurse yelled at my mother that "she wasn't going to get her nurses sick". She told my mother to stay in the ER room with my stepdad and not to leave even though there was no bathroom in the room. While they were in the ER room, the hospital President came into the room and was talking to my stepdad about his career and asking questions about his time in the military. It appears that the President put notes in the hospital system about what they talked about (they were listed on the transcripts we requested right after his death).

He was then admitted into the hospital and my mother was forced to leave. He was not allowed to have any visitors. The first two days, he was on a regular floor at the hospital. He seemed to be doing okay while on that floor. He was talking to us on the phone and sending my mom texts and pictures of his meals. He was then moved to the covid floor. He then stopped responding to calls and texts.

The male nurse that was assigned to him was very insensitive. He acted like he didn't know why he wasn't responding to his phone. No one would call us with updates, so we would have to call and try and get information. The nurse said that my stepdad got up and was walking down the hall and he didn't know where he was going. We think my stepdad might have known that the medicine they were giving him was hurting him because there were some pills in his hospital bed. After this, they restrained his arms. Around this time is when his kidneys started failing and they wanted to do dialysis. He also started having problems with his blood pressure. Prior to going into the hospital, he was on high blood pressure medicine. While in the hospital, his blood pressure began to fall and they still gave him the high blood pressure meds one or two times.

Only after begging the hospital doctor were we able to see him for 15 minutes before they put in a ventilator. The lung doctor then told us that he had not had one patient survive that was on dialysis and ventilator. But they thought this needed to be done. The next day, my stepdad suffered a heart attack. The doctor called us over the phone and said he had passed (8/16/2021) but they could try again to bring him back but he didn't think it would work. The nurse then asked for the funeral home we wanted to use. I gave them the name of our family friend that owns the local funeral home. The family friend then contacted me and said the hospital called him but not as the mortician, but as the coroner. He was somewhat surprised about why they called him as the coroner and not the mortician.

Thank you for the opportunity to tell my stepdad's story. We have all of the transcripts from the hospital. What happened to him and the others on that same floor was horrendous!!!! It was a genocide of the unvaccinated!!! We are praying for justice!!!
