

On November 30, 2021, I dropped my husband, John off at the Emergency Department at Atrium Health Wake Forest Baptist Medical Center in Lexington, NC after he tested positive for covid on 11/28/21. The doctor's conducted a covid test and immediately started administering remdesivir without informed consent. John was transported to Atrium Health's main campus in Winston-Salem, NC at midnight that same night. On day one, they continued to give him remdesivir, a doctor coerced John into participating in a study called TXA-127, stating that it could help treat his covid symptoms and others, but they did not know if he (John) would be getting the actual study drug or a placebo, but for participating, John would receive a $150 gift card in which John agreed. I remember discussing that with a doctor and stating, "so basically you are using my husband as a guinea pig?" I heard the doctor smirk. While John was participating in the study, he was also being treated with monoclonal antibodies. On or about 12/4/21, I woke up to a text message from John stating they were putting him in ICU. Over a course of a few days, the doctor's had John on antibiotics, anxiety medication, in proning positions, nothing was working, I remember in the early part of his hospitalization speaking to a doctor by phone requesting they try ivermectin and a vitamin C drip, the doctor stated there was no scientific evidence to support either treated covid. John continued to get worse, I was told, "your husband is the sickest man on the floor." John was vented on 12/11/21, prior to this happening, he was deprived of water and food for more than 12 hours. At the time of being vented, his heart rate dropped significantly low and his oxygen saturation was at a 65 for an hour. On December 21, 2021, John's family and I sat across from a team of doctors and nurses, we were asked what John's personality was like and what did he do for a living. We were then told that his kidneys were shutting down and he was dying. We wanted to see him that day, they refused! We were only allowed to see him through a door with a large glass window and talk to him on a cellphone, which was placed in a plastic bag and put on speaker so he could hear us while he lay in the coma. The next day, we were allowed in the room. I was encouraged to sign a Do Not Resuscitate (DNR) order, the doctor stated if they had to do CPR it would crush his ribs and they would probably not be able to restart his heart. I refused to sign the DNR and told them to use every life saving measure possible. John was being prescribed dilaudid, fentanyl, heparin, morphine, paralytic drugs, propofol, and many others to keep him sedated while he was in the coma. John was also on continuous dialysis while in the coma. He had the vent removed from his lungs after approximately two weeks and a tracheotomy was done. The doctor's continued to lead me to believe there was no hope, and he was either brain dead or had a brain injury due to lack of oxygen when he was vented on 12/11/21. On 12/30/21, the very same day John was scheduled to have an MRI to "confirm" their suspicions that John was brain dead, John woke up from his coma. My husband has 30% lung function and is permanently disabled, with some short-term memory loss issues and post-traumatic stress disorder from what he endured. I later discovered that the study drug used in TXA-127, was remdesivir. They isolated John for 21 days, keeping me away from him, longer than necessary. God saved my husband, not the doctors, not the CDC!
