

Hello, my name is Douglas Hines born 3/7/57 and residing in Iola, Wi.

I came down with Covid the end of July 2020. My son is a paramedic/firefighter in the city of Marshfield, Wi., so after consulting with my family I decided to go there for treatment. Little did we know of the nightmare that started when I was diagnosed with Covid and admitted to the hospital. It started August 6th, 2020 and I finally came home November 13th, 98 Days later. Lucky for me my family all were working or had been working in some form of healthcare. I was put on a ventilator and in a medically induced coma shortly after being admitted. That's when my wife and kids started butting heads with the hospital protocols. I recall agreeing to some form of experimental treatment involving plasma. They started filling my body full of medications. We have the prescription records, the most alarming one is 10 days of remdesivir in August. Which destroyed my kidneys. One doctor wanted to put me on hospice, but my family refused. After coming close to death twice, somehow I survived. In fact I am the only survivor of Marshfield's critical care Covid unit. After I came out of the coma, I was then transferred to Madison Select in Madison, Wi. To wien off the ventilator and learn to eat , walk and talk again. After a month there I ended up in Thedacare rehab in Neenah for 2 weeks. It was very difficult for my family with the no visitors protocol. I am currently on dialysis and waiting for a kidney. I get very angry now knowing this came from a lab and never should have happened. After some nudging from my daughter, I decided to write a book about my ordeal. It's called 98 DAYS and can be found on Amazon.

I also have a nephew that works with computers and he set up a website for me www.98-days.com

I hope we can make a difference some how.

Thank you,
Doug Hines
