

OhioHealth Riverside Methodist Hospital In Columbus, Ohio tried to kill me as soon as I told them I was unvaccinated. I checked into the hospital on 8/19/21 with COVID symptoms. They did blood tests and lung exams on me, and all of my organs were functioning properly and my blood tests came back great and my lungs were clear. They asked me if I had been vaccinated, and I told them yes (which was a lie, because I didn't want to be vaccinated). They told me that all I needed was a little oxygen to feel better and I should spend the night at the hospital with oxygen. I spent the night and was feeling better the next day. They were going to discharge me, but they told me that they called my brother while I was sleeping (isn't that against HIPAA rules?) who told them that I was unvaccinated. Once they found out I was unvaccinated, they tried to force a ventilator on me against my will. I resisted the ventilator and they told me multiple times that I was going to die without the ventilator. They were trying to scare me. I kept resisting until they stopped pushing me to use the ventilator. However, they wouldn't let me leave the hospital. Later, a doctor came into my room and told me that it was a matter of life or death that I immediately take remdesivir for multiple rounds over the next several days. I asked him if it was safe, and he said "very safe and effective". He injected me with remdesivir and continued to do so multiple times into the next day. That's when I started coughing up blood and both of my lungs collapsed! They rushed me into emergency chest tube surgery to re-inflate my lungs, and now I had to stay in the hospital for a week with chest tubes in me. My kidneys were damaged by the remdesivir as well. My kidneys were functioning at over 100% on the day I checked in (we have the blood tests on check-in day to prove this), but now my kidney function had dropped to high 60/low 70 percentages. After a week in the hospital, they dismissed me, but I kept coughing up blood for 2 weeks and my lungs collapsed again. I had to come back to the hospital in an ambulance for another chest tube surgery, and had to stay in the hospital for another week. They dismissed me after a week in the hospital, but my lungs collapsed again and I had to come back yet again in an ambulance for a 3rd chest tube surgery and I had to stay in the hospital for another week. I finally got my lungs stabilized, but my lungs now have scar tissue on them, and my kidneys are now only functioning at 75% (down from over 100%). One of the nurses told me that I was one of the very few patients to walk out alive from the COVID ward because "COVID is such a killer". Nope, it wasn't COVID. I was perfectly fine until they injected me with remdesivir multiple times. And they ONLY introduced remdesivir into the picture after they found out I was unvaccinated. When they thought I was vaccinated, they had a completely different protocol, which was to simply give me oxygen and release me the next day. Once they found out I was unvaccinated, they kept repeating to me that I was going to die, and they tried to force a ventilator on my face, and they injected me with Remdesivir multiple times which caused multiple lung collapses + damaged my kidneys. I am lucky to be alive, but they tried to kill me.
