

My stepfather got Covid at the beginning of July 2020 as did my mom. I asked his dr about treatments of ivermectin and hcq and was told to stop listening to Trump. After being at home for about a week and given a zpack his oxygen was below 92 and his dr told my mom to take him to the ER. From there he was put in an ambulance and taken to Baptist hospital. He was given remdisaver the following day and a day later while speaking to my mom on the phone the nurses came in and intubated him, my mom was screaming through the phone as she had no idea what was happening and was shocked when the nurses said they had intubated him, she told the nurses "why would you do that"? He wasn't even short of breath ..he was intubated for about 2 weeks, no one was allowed to go see him in the hospital, he was taken off intubation for 1 day and was doing ok and within 24 hours was intubated again and passed away a day later ..it was the most horrific experience our family has ever gone through, he was so loved by so many and died alone in the hospital
